7. MAXIMUM ADHESION = MAXIMUM PROTECTION

A common feature of cheap restorations is inadequate roof sterilisation and the use of poor quality or no sealer at all. Globalcote Surface Treatment is applied to sterilize and prevent mould and fungus regrowth before applying a sealer coat. Globalcote Roof Sealer will penetrate deep into the pores and this maximises adhesion for the following membrane coatings.

JMZ use and will only recommend Globalcote Roof Membrane products. Globalcote Roof Coatings are produced in association with one of the largest manufacturer suppliers in the world and formulated by a chemist with over 40 years experience in the coatings industry.

The highest quality natural iron oxide pigments not synthetic, are used in the manufacture of this product ensuring that the product has the best possible weathering characteristics such as fading or discolouration and making Globalcote Roof Coatings unlike any other roof coating product on the market. For further information on the Globalcote Products visit the website www.globalcote.com.au

4 Steps to a Superior Quality Roof Restoration backed by 10 Year Written Warranty from JMZ

Step 1 - High Pressure Clean

Gutter traps are put in place to redirect dirty water and to stop it from going into the storm water drains; this is to comply with council regulations.

Any rust effected areas are cleaned and any flaking paint is removed to provide a sound clean surface.

All excess dirt, grime, moss, mould/lichen and other contaminates removed using a high pressure water blast at a minimum of 3000 PSI.

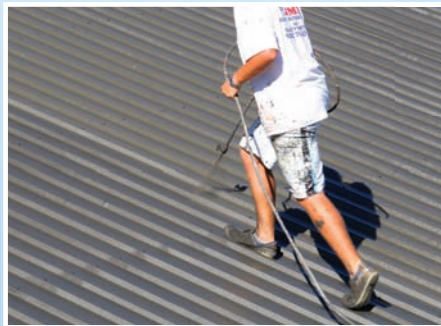

Step 3 - 1st Coat

1st coat of Globalcote Roof Membrane is applied.

Step 2 - Surface Sealed

Rusty screws are removed where required and spot primed using a metal primer (preceded by a rust convertor if rust is present) prior to application of Globalcote Roof Sealer.

Step 4 - Final Coat

Final coat of Globalcote Roof Membrane is applied with a written warranty for 10 years on both workmanship and materials by our company.

JMZ uses and only recommends the Globalcote Roof Coating System

The finishing coat.
